

- Find a school that's right for you and apply
- Apply for a study permit as soon as possible
- Work while you study

• Extend your visa or study permit as needed

With a PGWP, you can work for up to three years in Canada for almost any employer

 Get another type of work permit if you are not eligible for PGWP Explore other types of work permits you could be

Help your spouse/partner keep working while you work

 With Canadian educational credentials and work experience, you're a great candidate to apply to stay permanently Check out your options:

Express Entry

Provincial Nominee Program

Atlantic Immigration Pilot

The time you spend in Canada as a student or temporary worker counts towards eventually applying to be a Canadian citizen